

Dokuwiki Plugins Used

There are a number of plugins installed, that allow for certain non-standard features. To get an idea of how to use them, see the section Plugins below. There are, however also other not so well-known markup tags, that may be of use.

Columns

By default, there is a means to align contents in columns, but not in a table. Here is an example for two columns:

<WRAP group>
  <WRAP half column>
  ===== Head Line =====
    Indention for Box
  </WRAP>
  <WRAP half column>
  ===== Another Head Line =====
    Another Box
  Out of the Box
  </WRAP> </WRAP>

This will result in this presentation:

Head Line

Another Head Line

Indention for Box

Another Box

Out of the Box

As you can see, it is not newspaper-like, where text wraps at the lower window into the next column.

Plugins

folded

This allows you to create a hidden section of the text, that can be unfolded.

++++ (click to expand) |
This is hidden by default

\(click to expand\)

This is hidden by default

RefNotes

This allows you to create a footnote.

This text is footnoted with[(this footnote)].
